Pain of Loving You by Dolly Parton and Porter Wagoner (1971)

```
              B     B(½)  Bsus4(½)  B
Oh, the pain   of  loving      you
              F#      F#        B           B
Oh, the misery      I go through
              B     B(½)    E(½)      B     B
Never know      ing what to do
              B     B(½)  F#(½)   B       B
Oh, the pain      of loving you

              B      B(½)  F#(½)    B        B
You just can't stand    to see me happy
              F#   F#             B     B
Seems you hurt      me all you can
        B  B(½)  E(½)      B     B
Still I go      on loving you
        B   B(½)    F#(½)   B        B
But I ne      ver under stand

              B     B(½)  Bsus4(½)  B
Oh, the pain   of  loving      you
              F#      F#        B           B
Oh, the misery      I go through
              B     B(½)    E(½)       B    B
Never know      ing what to do
              B     B(½)  F#(½)   B       B
Oh, the pain      of loving you

              B      B(½)  F#(½)      B    B
To love and hate      at the same time
              B      B(½)      F#(½)  B    B
The line between      the two is  fine
              B      B(½)      E(½)        B    B
The two have bound      my heart and soul
              B   B(½)        F#(½)   B     B
So strong that I       can't let you go
