Sweet Is the Melody by Iris Dement (1992)

D   A   Bm   G   D

Sweet is the melody so hard to come by, it's so hard to dance floor's for gli__ding not jumping over po – nies, where boots and gold arm's just an arm 'til it's wrapped 'round a shoul – der; looped side by side

D   A   A7   D   A   Bm

make ev – ry note bend just right. You lay down the ho – urs and leave not one brace – lets__ meet as they should. It's for ce – le – bra – ting a Fri – day night they go step – ping out to – gether. A note's just a note 'til you wake from your trace. ButIt's a tune for the dan – cing is there in its place. Well the romance: for get – ting the bad stuff and just feel – ing right. Oh, an slumber and__ dare to dis – cov – er a new mel – o – dy.

G   D   D   A7   D

D   A   Bm   G
Sweet is the melody, so hard to come by D   D   AD   A7
it's so hard to make every note bend just right
   D   A   Bm   G
You lay down the hours and leave not one trace
   D   D   A   D   D
But a tune for the dancing is there in its place

Well, the dance floor's for gliding and not jumping over ponies.
Where boots and gold bracelets come and meet as they should.
It's for celebrating a Friday night romance:
Forgetting the bad stuff and just feeling good.

Oh, an arm's just an arm 'til it's wrapped 'round a shoulder;
Looped side by side they go stepping out together.
A note's just a note 'til you wake from your slumber,
And dare to discover the new melody.